About these worksheets

These exercises and activities have been designed for use with the Cambridge International Dictionary of Phrasal Verbs and the Cambridge International Dictionary of Idioms. They can be used with students from intermediate to advanced level.

Their aim is to give students practice in a variety of language areas connected with phrasal verbs and idioms, including vocabulary building, grammar, collocation and using different varieties of English and different registers. They are also designed to give students greater confidence and skill in using a monolingual dictionary.

The worksheets can be photocopied freely for classroom use or for self-study.

We hope you and your students enjoy using them.

Themes

11 Look at the 'Business' theme panel at the back of the dictionary and answer these questions.

How can you describe someone who:

1. is more successful than other people trying to achieve the same things as them?
2. is one of the most important people in a small organization (they would have much less power and importance if they were part of a larger organization)?
3. is good at their job and soon becomes rich?
4. demands a lot when making an agreement with someone?
5. is practical and determined?
6. is trying to get money or power in a dishonest way?
7. is stealing money from the place where they work?
8. has firm control over the organization they run?

12 Look at the 'Happiness and Sadness' theme panel and fill in the gaps in these sentences. There may be more than one possible answer.

1. Helena was when she found out her exam results. She couldn't stop laughing.
2. It my mother's when my brother came home from Australia.

Idioms from other idioms

14 The dictionary entries for all of the idioms below also show other idioms which are formed from them. Verbs may be turned into nouns or adjectives, for example waste your breath → a waste of breath, or the verb may be changed with another verb have the hump → get the hump. In other cases nouns become adjectives.

Fill in the gaps using other idioms formed from the idioms in brackets.

1. (stab sb in the back) Finding out that your colleague was lying to your boss about you must have been
2. (blue blood) I'm not surprised he's related to royalty. He does behave like he's
